

Message from the Editor

Hi all, and welcome to our very first edition of our WRP newsletter. In this edition you will find some feedback from management's last meeting as well as profiles on some "not so new" anymore faces you will see around the office. There is also some family and sports news. It is our intention to distribute a newsletter every couple of months, depending on the news available. Please pass on any exiting family news you would like to share with the rest of the office for inclusion in the letter. Oh, and don't forget to enter our competition to come up with a catchy name for the letter. The winner will receive a free pizza from across the road! Happy reading.
