

Message from the Editor

Another jam packed edition, the last for 2011. A busy time ahead as the year winds down, with our year end function planned for 25 November 2011. Enjoy the letter, enjoy the holidays and looking forward to seeing you all relaxed and refreshed in 2012.

African Water Leakage Summit 2011

Officially Sanctioned by the International Water Association

International
Water Association

The summit was a huge success with a record number of attendees in both Cape Town and Johannesburg. Thanks to all those who helped organise and pull off the event.

Casual Day Loslit Dag

For those of you who don't recognise this guy, this is Johannes (the quiet guy sharing an office with Ian!)

Worn to be wild!
2 September 2011

WRP makes Casual Day a special day in their calendar, every year. This year, the theme 'Worn to be wild' literally got some staff strutting their funny side in aid of collecting money for people with disabilities.

SAICE Action Cricket Tournament 2011, Tiger Valley Action Sports Arena, 23 September 2011.

Our WRP "social" team became rather competitive after realising we were not as bad as we thought. We won all 3 Round Robin games and narrowly lost the bronze medal playoff. We were placed fourth out of ten teams. Great fun was had by all.

It's all in the hips according to Chillie...
